Art Unit: 1722

1. The indicated allowability of claims 1 and 10 is withdrawn in view of the newly discovered reference to Adams et al. (U.S. Pat. No. 5,601,712). Rejections based on the newly cited reference follow.

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1 and 8-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Adams et al. (U.S. Pat. No. 5,601,712).

Adams discloses a tooling, in the form of a foraminous drum (12), and thus, a "screen tooling" and "perforated member." Adams discloses that the tooling may be formed from a metallic structure with a porcelain coating system (see cl. 4, ll. 36-56).

The recitation of the claimed screen tooling being "for a fiber performing process" in the instant application has not been given patentable weight because the recitation occurs in the preamble. A preamble is generally not accorded any patentable weight where it merely recites the purpose of a process or the intended use of a structure, and where the body of the claim does not depend on the preamble for completeness but, instead, the process steps or structural limitations are able to stand alone. See In re Hirao, 535 F.2d 67, 190 USPQ 15 (CCPA 1976); Kropa v. Robie, 187 F.2d 150, 152, 88 USPQ 478, 481 (CCPA 1951). Moreover, it is well settled that the intended use of an apparatus is not germane to the issue of patentability of the apparatus. In re Casey, 370 F.2d 576, 580 152 USPQ 235, 238 (CCPA 1967); In re Otto, 312 F.2d 937, 939, 136 USPQ 458, 459 (CCPA 1963); MPEP § 2115. In this case, the recitation in the preamble of claims 1 and 10 that the claimed screen tooling be "for a fiber performing process" relates only to a use of the claimed apparatus.

4. Claims 2-7 and 11-16 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

5. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter:

Art Unit: 1722

The prior art of record fails to teach or suggest a screen tooling with a porcelain enamel composition including quartz, borax, boric oxide, potassium nitrate, sodium silicofluoride, and manganese dioxide as recited in claims 2, 3, 11, and 12, or wherein the porcelain enamel composition is derived from a dry mixture comprising quartz, borax, boric acid, potassium nitrate, sodium silicofluoride, and manganese dioxide as recited in claims 4, 5, 6, 13, 14, and 15.
